Why Do You Judge Me?

Luis Angel López Salazar

Why do you judge me, if it is God who declares me innocent? And what do you accuse me of, if it is the Lord who defends me? You deceive everybody and say that I have never apologized for my sins; but that is only a lie to hurt me. If it were true, then God would not have forgiven me, and I would not shine with His Holy light, not would He give me so many blessings and so many miracles that cannot even be counted, like the stars in heaven, like the sand of the sea. Why, then, does my Father love me so much, if I am just a miserable sinner and you claim to be decent peoples?

If God forgave me, why do you not respect his Holy Judgment? Are you perhaps greater than the Almighty? God forbade you to hurt me, but you rebelled against Him and tried to kill me to stop me from fulfilling His Holy Will. To this day, you continue to attack me and do not let me fulfill my missions. You do not even care about the suffering of the poor. You have no fear of God. He forgave me because my heart is pure, and He condemned you to hell for all your evil.

But even you yourselves, in the midst of so much darkness, are able to see the light: “He apologized to the people that he hurt, but he doesn’t want to apologize to us because he’s never hurt us.” Perhaps if I had apologized to the wind, as you do to not apologize to me, instead of having written a very beautiful poem, with all my love, “To whom I never Wanted to Hurt”, then you would not judge me. But the world rejects everybody who comes from God. If you do not repent for all your sins and come back to God, with a contrite and humble heart, you will suffer very much.
