The Miracle Of Life

Luis Angel López

*You say it's your body, and you have the right...
But remember that it isn't your life that you're ending.
Don't deny him the opportunity to live.
He also has the right to be happy.*

*Shouldn't it be his decision?
After all, isn't it his body and not yours,
his little body that you are trying to destroy?
Who will speak for him?*

*Maybe the pill failed you,
in your night of passion.
You never wanted it.
But why should he pay for your mistake?*

*Or maybe you were the victim
of an awful crime.
Then, take comfort in his innocence.
Killing him won't make it right.*

*Accept God's blessing.
Realize that your body is beautiful,
for you carry a new life inside.
Love and protect him,
so that one day he may call you Mom.*
