Your Goodbye

Luis Angel López

*We can't deny we repeat many mistakes.
But who can stop loving?*

*Today I woke up with so much sadness because I found out that your love was only fantasy.
And as the whole world flowed next to me,
I drowned in my tears uselessly.*

*What a joy to have lived such circumstance!
that your love doesn't attribute to my love anymore,
and the languishing wait consumes my distance-wounded heart.*

*The bitterness that you left me,
I can't deny it still shocks me.
But I won't clamor madness
nor will I crown death victorious.
My penitence will only be your memory thrown in the sewer.*
